You have crossed the line when you allow commentators on your blog to incite violence against me. I refer specifically to this commentary which was moderated by you and which I reproduce below:

Somebody, please shoot this Gunasegaram for good.

The issue brought up by Tun Dr Mahathir is genuine and should be tackled. This fued Gunasegaram is lending a helping hand to the Administration from having to tackle the issue.

I want to know what you are going to do to remove this threat and incitement that you have allowed to be put over my head for writing a fair and substantiated commentary on what is happening in our country. I also want to know how you are going to assure my safety when you have allowed hundreds and perhaps thousands of your readers to read this. "Shoot this Gunasegaram for good" means to kill him.

I am especially concerned about your lack of sensitivity and your absolute disregard for a situation made tense following the tear gas attack on the former prime minister.

Up to a point I am prepared to put up with all sorts of unwarranted, unfair and unsubstantiated comments and innuendoes by you and some of your readers, some of them no doubt defamatory. But I am not going to stand by and do nothing when you ally yourself to parties who make threats and incitement against my life.

Please treat this matter with utmost urgency and get back to me as soon as possible on how you propose to undo the damage that you are doing to me and how you are going to ensure that something like this is not repeated in future.

P. Gunasegaram
Group Executive Editor
The Edge.

Jeff, what I meant by 'shoot' is, shut this guy up.

Sorry that my comment got you in a tight spot.

I support Tun. Dr Mahathir.
